

NAME MISS MOELLER SECRETARY OF SOCIAL CLEARING HOUSE HERE

Appointment Announced
by Frank A. Lynch,
Chairman of Committee

MONEY IS OBTAINED Definite Operating Plans Are Studied

Announcement was made Friday that Miss Gretchen Moeller, 415 S. Court-st., has been appointed secretary of the local Social Service Clearing House which is expected to go into action next week, or just as soon as definite arrangements are completed.

The announcement of Miss Moeller's appointment was made by Frank A. Lynch, chairman of the committee appointed to arrange for the Clearing House. Other members of the committee include Mrs. William Betts Jr., of the American Legion's auxiliary; Orrin Dreisbach, commander of the American Legion post; Miss Clara Southward, of the Benevolent association; Harry Bartholomew of the Elks lodge; John W. Hay, president of the board of county commissioners, and W. H. Cline, Walnut-twp trustee.

MONEY ALLOTTED
The Social Service Clearing House here was assured this week when Tom D. Krinn, deputy county auditor, received notification from the State Relief Commission that permission is granted to transfer $300 from the Outside Relief fund to the clearing house plan for clerical duties. The work deals with outside relief. The clearing of finance was the only thing holding back the completion of the project.

Definite plans as to just where the Clearing House office will be located and other details have not been announced but will be known early next week.

GREAT ASSET
The Clearing House will be a great asset in reducing duplication and unnecessary spending in handling charity in the city. Card indexes of all persons receiving aid from any source will be kept in the office and upon anyone's application for assistance from any charitable organization that organization will call the secretary who will look through her cards to determine when the applicant last received help, in what form assistance was given and by whom. Duplication will be practically eliminated by this plan.

FRANCE OPENS DEBT CONFAB

Boncour Surprises All By Conferring With Walter Edge Seeking Solution.

PARIS, Dec. 23.—In a sudden and dramatic reversal of France's previous war debt stand Premier Joseph Paul Boncour reopened negotiations with the United States today asking the American embassy for advice regarding a debt formula acceptable to both nations. Unexpected and unannounced, Premier Paul Boncour called at the embassy sought an audience with Ambassador Walter Edge and then spent three quarters of an hour in reviewing the entire situation.

The action of the Premier was believed to be without precedent. It was a dramatic and significant departure from the procedure which France followed during the week which preceded the Chamber of Deputies' decision to default on the payment due to the United States a week ago yesterday.

EMBEZZLER FREED FROM PRISON FARM

LONDON, Dec. 23.—Freed by a Christmas parole, A. E. Quern-John, convicted embezzler of $90,000 from a Columbus finance company, today was to leave London prison farm for New York, where he will join his wife.

After serving three years of a 3-to-10-year sentence he was granted a discharge late yesterday by the state board of parole. He was former director of the defunct Cities Mortgage Co. and president of a finance company bearing his own name. The embezzlement caused the collapse of both concerns.

Mrs. Quern-John has been employed since her husband went to prison. He has been eligible for parole since

At Red Cross Pageant

Commemorating the founding of the first chapter of the American Red Cross half a century ago at Dansville, N. Y., Dr. P. B. Andrews, initial secretary of the organization, is shown shaking hands with Bonnie Dale, impersonating Clara Barton, founder of the Red Cross. The pageantry in which these two principals took part, together with the original flag of the Red Cross, at which they are looking, was recently staged at the Physical Culture Hotel, Dansville.

L. HOLDERMAN HURT IN CRASH
Pickaway-Twp Man Cut About
Face; J. Mattinson Unin-
jured As Car Slides.

Lewis Holderman, of Pickaway-twp, suffered a cut on his face, and a bruised right arm, and James Mattinson of South Charleston, miraculously escaped uninjured at 8 p. m. Thursday when a Ford V-8 sedan, owned by Carson Dreisbach of Pickaway-twp and driven by Mattinson, skidded off the road and struck a corn crib.

The accident happened seven miles west of Chillicothe on the Cincinnati-pk while the men were returning to this city from a Hillsboro stock sale. Mattinson, a brother of Miss Margaret Mattinson, high school teacher, has been residing with Dick Jones on Wait-st.

The Dreisbach automobile was almost demolished. This is the second automobile owned by Mr. Dreisbach to be destroyed in a wreck in the last six weeks. At that time Dick Jones was driving one of Mr. Dreisbach's cars and figured in an accident. The automobile wrecked Thursday was the one Mr. Dreisbach bought after Jones' accident. A dog riding in the back seat of the wrecked Ford escaped injury Thursday.

Mr. Dreisbach had attended the sale but returned earlier in the evening with another man.

STORES TO CLOSE IN CITY MONDAY

Christmas will be officially celebrated here on Monday with banks, court house offices and stores being closed. Practically all merchants have decided to keep their stores closed on Monday in observance of the holiday.

In order to permit employees to enjoy the holiday there will be no publication of The Herald on Monday.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 23.—A three-day Christmas holiday was granted state employees today by Governor George White.

Received at Noon Friday, Committee Reports.

BULLETIN

The committee in charge of the Holiday Home Lighting and Decorating contest announced Friday afternoon that the contest has been cancelled because of scarcity of entrants.

At noon today only one entry had been received.

A number of prizes had been offered by merchants of the city.

Late News Flashes

WHITE IS IRATE
COLUMBUS, Dec. 23.—Gov. George White today commended Sheriff John W. Parker of Erie-co, to clean up bootlegging and prostitution in the vicinity of the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors home at which warrants the indignation and disapproval of the citizens of the state of Ohio," declared the Governor.

FIRE HITS LA RUE
LA RUE, O., Dec. 23.—Fire today destroyed the Opera House here with damages estimated at approximately $10,000. The blaze was believed to have started from defective wiring under the stage. Fire companies from Marion, Green Camp and Kenton joined in fighting the flames which spread rapidly through the structure.

GALE HITS COAST
SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 23.—A gale that in some places attained a 90 mile velocity lashed the Pacific northwest today. Two seamen were drowned. Rail and power lines were battered down, several highways were blocked and a number of houses were destroyed.

WARN MERCHANTS OF SHOPLIFTERS

County and city officers today issued a warning to all merchants and store owners to keep a sharp look out for shop lifting in their places of business.

This action was taken after officers had seen on the streets several persons who are known through police circles as being notorious shop lifters.

Every year it is estimated that over $2,000 worth of merchandise is lost to the merchants through shop lifting.

Store owners are asked to report to authorities immediately any person acting in a suspicious manner in their store.

The sheriff and police departments are having men on the street continually during the last few days of the Christmas rush in an effort to curtail any shop lifting which may be going on.

ILLNESS OF YEAR TAKES R. D. HARMON

R. D. Harmon, a former resident of this city, died Thursday at 3 p. m. at his home near Belle Center, according to word received here. He had been ill for a year with arthritis.

Mr. Harmon, who was a brother of the late Mrs. Mary Krimmel, is survived by his widow, Ella Sarris Harmon, and three children, Mrs. C. E. Wright of Duval, Will and Otha Harmon of near Belle Center.

Services will be held Saturday with private burial in Forest cemetery Saturday afternoon.

MRS. M. B. TROUT
RETURNED HOME

Mrs. M. B. Trout was returned to her home on N. Court-st. from White Cross hospital, Thursday where she has been for observation for the past two weeks. Her condition is much improved.

RUSSELL TODD ASKS $7,500

Former Local Man Says He Was Wrongfully Arrested
and Prosecuted.

Russell Todd, formerly of this city, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Todd of Wayne-twp, filed suit in Ross-co courts Thursday against the Columbus Motor Express Co. for $7,500 charging malicious prosecution on a charge of embezzlement.

Todd was former agent for the express company in Chillicothe. Following his exoneration in common pleas court by an unanimous jury verdict that he was not guilty of the embezzlement indictment, Todd, through his attorney, Eyrone Blair, instituted a civil action in Squire McDougall's court to recover $28 which he claimed due him as back salary and which was not paid him at the time the Columbus Motor Express Co. dismissed him from service. The express firm contested that action, filing a counter-claim, asserted that while Todd was their agent he had appropriated for his own use $172.28 of company funds, and asking for recovery of that amount less credits due Todd of $28 back salary and another of $15.35 on a collection of a weight bill. The company asked that they be granted recovery for $129.03 against Todd.

Checks Received From Schools On Xmas Seal Sales

Sale Good But Not So Strong
As Year Ago; City Schools
Give $23.89.

Mrs. Fannie B. Kirk, executive secretary of the Pickaway-co Public Health League, in charge of sale of Christmas seals to fight tuberculosis, announced Friday that while the seal sale is good the returns so far are not so large as a year ago.

Checks were received from several schools this week with the following report being made. Circleville schools, with Corwin-st. yet to report, $23.89; Ashville schools, $6.90; Walnut-twp school and teachers, $10; Saltcreek-twp teachers, $10; the superintendent, J. A. B. Wagner contributing $2. The Third National bank sent a check for $4 to the office and the G. C. Murphy store for $2.30.

One child took a penny to her teacher this week it is reported, and cried when the teacher did not have a seal for her. A seal was promptly obtained, however, and the child's tears dried. If everyone was as eager as this child the master of the seal sale would be easily taken care of.

Santa Claus To Come Saturday; To Aid 'Kiddies'

Candy, Fruit to Be Distributed at Community
Christmas Tree at 7:30

PROGRAM PLANNED

Firemen Plan to Distribute Toys, Too

Saturday will be one of the outstanding days of the year as far as Circleville's needy children are concerned. Two functions, outstanding in the Christmas season for them, are planned.

First, the fire department will begin distribution of toys Saturday morning—and such a display of toys as can be found in the rear part of the engine house has probably never before been seen outside a toy shop. Last year's pile was large but with a much greater demand for toys this year, residents of the city have rallied to help the firemen.

More than 400 kiddies will be made happy when toys are distributed.

BEGINS AT 7:30
The Community Christmas tree, one of the features of the holiday season, will be lighted Saturday at 7:30 p. m. when Santa Claus will arrive to distribute 1,000 bags of candy, nuts, oranges and apples.

The tree is sponsored by Howard Hall post, American Legion, with a number of public spirited citizens and lodges providing financial backing.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Sweyer will open the evening's festivities with selections on the chimes in the court house tower. Prayer will be offered after the chimes by Rev. C. H. Eichinger of the First Methodist church.

SANTA TO ARRIVE
Santa Claus will then put in his appearance and the celebration will be underway.

A number of organizations helped make the Christmas tree possible. They were the Circleville Lumber Co., which hauled the big Christmas tree donated to the Rotary Club by H. B. Quillen of near Ashville, from Hocking-co; the Southern Ohio Electric Co., for power to light the tree, and the Auxiliary of the American Legion for sacking the candy.

Boy Scouts will be on hand to handle the crowd which is expected to attend the festivities.

Santa Claus will pay a visit to Ashville Saturday at 8 p. m. with 400 children expected to be on hand to greet him at the Community Christmas tree in the center of the village. Christmas carols will be sung led by Miss Maxine Accord, teacher of music in the town's schools.

GREENBURG SUIT

Irene Greenburg, Parkersburg, W. Va., has been named defendant in a divorce suit charging gross neglect of duty, filed by Tony Greenburg of Circleville.

The plaintiff, in his petition, alleges that his wife has refused to live with him since 1927 when he was employed at the Stum & Dillard Co. and that she has willfully absented herself from him since that time and will not allow him to visit their children.

They were married in Parkersburg, Dec. 21, 1907, and six children have been born of the marriage. Five are living.

The plaintiff is represented by Adkins and Adkins.

CLUES SOUGHT IN MURDER OF GIRL

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Dec. 23.—Lacking the slightest trace of the whereabouts of Rose Gendler's murderers, police today turned to the friends of the pretty 22-year-old "salesgirl" for information which might produce a clue.

Newspapers in the memory of the latest living residents has a crime so shocked the tri-city metropolitan community of Rock Island, Moline and Davenport as the barbaric slayings of this popular girl, whose crushed body, trussed in a burlap sack, was found on the ice of Rock River.

While the murder was believed to have been committed by a "ransom" gang, authorities pursued every imaginable line of investigation in their efforts to solve the mystery.

DARROW WINS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 23.—Clarence Darrow, noted lawyer, won a double victory today when the State Supreme Court not only reversed the death penalty imposed on Russell McWilliams, boy slayer, for a second time, but in remanding the case, ordered a change of venue.

The findings of the high court twice upset the decision of Judge Arthur M. Fisher. In both trials Judge Fisher sentenced the boy to death. In the second trial Judge Fisher refused the defense counsel's plea for a change of venue.

CUYAHOGA COUNTY PRISONERS IRATE

CLEVELAND, Dec. 23.—With the prisoners reported in an "ugly mood" because of a quarantine, precautions were taken today to prevent a riot at the Cuyahoga-county jail after one escape plot had been nipped in the bud.

Feeling among the inmates was reported to be running high as the result of the action of health officials two days ago when the jail was placed under quarantine because of a threatened scarlet fever epidemic.

One disturbance on the fifth floor of the jail where the "hardened cases" are kept resulted in large damage, according to Sheriff Fred Alber. The six ring-leaders were placed in solitary confinement on a bread and water diet.

Japan Optimistic of "New Deal" From Roosevelt Administration

Viscount Ishii, Able Nipponese Statesman, to Visit Washington on Special Mission After Inauguration of Democratic President.

PRES-ELECT ROOSEVELT - PREMIER MINORU SAITO

That Japan considers herself entitled to a hand in the "new deal," promised by President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt in his election campaign, is evidenced by the decision of Premier Minoru Saito to send Viscount Kikijiro Ishii on a special mission to Washington soon after Mr. Roosevelt takes office. Japanese officials believe that the Democratic President will be much easier to deal with than his predecessor and optimism prevails in Tokyo that a new understanding between the United States and Japan will be arrived at regarding Far Eastern questions. Viscount Ishii, a member of the Privy Council, was co-author, with Robert Lansing, Secretary of State in the cabinet of President Wilson, of the Ishii-Lansing agreement. By this document, negotiated during the World War, the United States recognized Japan's special interests in China. The agreement was later repudiated by a Republican administration. It is the belief of those close to official circles in Japan that any understanding with the United States on Far Eastern policy should be based on a revival of the Ishii-Lansing agreement. Viscount Ishii will leave Tokyo on January 9 on a schedule that will take in London, Berlin, Paris, Brussels and Warsaw. This is expected to keep him occupied until the new President of the United States is inaugurated.

RUSSELL TODD

the hearing Wednesday, and ordered that Todd be entitled to recover $28 and that the defendant company pay the costs. Pretzman, Dillon and Craig of Columbus represented the express company.

In his petition to recover the damages for alleged malicious prosecution, Todd cites that Fred Gierhart, secretary and treasurer of the company, filed an embezzlement complaint against him before Mayor Gunning on June 18, 1932, and caused his arrest. Todd asserts the charge was false and says that the defendant "through its agent, knew the charge was false, fraudulent and untrue. He says he never embezzled any amount from the company. He charges that the defendant company acted maliciously and without probable cause in having him arrested. As a result of Gierhart's complaint, Todd says he was confined in two different jails and was forced to give a $300 bond for his appearance before the grand jury.

He charges further that the defendant, through its agent, caused the grand jury to indict him on the embezzlement charge, to which he pleaded "not guilty," Oct. 15, 1932. On Nov. 17, after trial of the case, the jury returned a unanimous verdict acquitting him.

DENIED GUILT
Todd asserts that the defendant company has further prosecuted him, even after the verdict of "not guilty," by attempting to sue him in McDougall's court to collect the amount the defendant "falsely and maliciously" claims he embezzled.

Todd says that by reason of the wrongful, malicious and unjust prosecution, he had to expend $58 in attorney fees, has been injured in his reputation and standing in the community, has been humiliated and damaged, and has been damaged in his reputation among business men and prospective employers so that it has been impossible for him to gain steady employment. He says he has been subject to great humiliation and mental pain and suffering because of the unreasonable and untrue insistence and accusation that he embezzled from his employer. Todd asserts he has spent many restless hours worrying, and pondering over the position in which the defendant company has placed him and over his public disgrace caused by the malicious prosecution. It is for these things that he asks damages in the amount stated.

Rotary Club Hears Description of Conditions in Eastern Country

Telling some of the interesting experiences that happened during his four years as a missionary surgeon in Siam, Dr. John Hoarst, of Columbus, entertained the Rotary Club Thursday noon.

He gave a vivid description of the country, how the people live, and how his work was carried on. "The cholera plague is terrible in Siam after the wet season," he said "and only until they have a good supply of water will they be able to eliminate the great death toll from this disease."

He explained the methods of travel, the business conditions and answered questions which made his talk one of great interest. H. E. Quillen, of Ashville, who donated the Community Christmas tree to the club was a guest at the meeting.

14 ARE KILLED IN JAPANESE FLAMES

LONDON, Dec. 23.—Fourteen persons died today in a fire that broke out in a poor section of Tokyo just before dawn, according to an exchange Telegram dispatch.

Thirty persons were missing, including 15 children. All were believed burned to death, the message said.

The section hit by the fire was inhabited chiefly by Koreans. Many were seriously injured as they leaped from their beds and fled in terror from their blazing wooden homes.

Firemen quelled the flames with difficulty, owing to the congested character of the neighborhood.

TRUESDALE MUST AGAIN BE TRIED

LIMA, Dec. 23.—The fate of 23-year-old Loren Truesdale, accused of the murders of his brother, Earl, 20, and Miss Thelma Woods, 17, was still suspended in uncertainty today following the failure of a jury of nine men and three women to reach a verdict after 45 hours of deliberation. The jury was discharged by Judge E. B. Everett last yesterday and Jan. 30 was set as the date for a new trial for the young defendant whom the state charges killed his brother in a fit of jealousy "for stealing his girls," and murdered Miss Woods "to keep her from telling."

BITE IN 40 YEARS

PLYMOUTH, Mass.—William Clapp collected snakes and reptiles for the Harvard university Zoology department for 40 years and never suffered a snake bite. But while displaying to a group of friends on board his schooner a small cotton-mouthed moccasin snake, he was bitten in the arm and for a time it was feared his arm would have to be amputated.

INJURIES WORTH $5,034; ADELPHI MAN FILES SUIT

A fight in which Arthur Conrad of Adelphi R. F. D. and S. Jesse Benson of Fairfield-co. figured on Nov. 8 at the Scioto Valley stock yards in Lancaster is worth $5,034.50 damages to the latter he claims in a suit filed Thursday in Ross-co common pleas court.

Benson charges he was struck about the head, suffering a broken nose losing two upper front teeth, having a bone in his lower jaw broken, both eyes blackened and his face cut and bruised.

Quills, Not Burglar

DENVER—Walter Beard, vegetable dealer, heard a noise in his vendor's wagon outside late in the night. Thinking he was being robbed, he unleashed his watchdog, "Jiggs."

"Jiggs" came back with 12 porcupine quills in his nose.

The porcupine was captured and taken to city park zoo.

... Colds doubly dangerous with Flu around

HEALTH authorities warn that every precaution should be taken to check colds promptly. Colds pull down body resistance, and often pave the way for an attack of flu and its serious complications. Don't take chances. For greatest safety and protection, follow Vicks Plan for better Control of Colds. With certain simple rules of health, the Plan, briefly, is this:

TO PREVENT MANY COLDS: At that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation, snuffle or sneeze—Nature's usual warning that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose & Throat Drops, the new aid in preventing colds. This will check many colds at the nose and throat—where most colds start.

TO END A COLD SOONER: If a cold has developed, or strikes without warning, vigorous measures are necessary. Rest as much as possible, preferably in bed. Take a mild laxative, if needed. At bedtime, apply Vicks VapoRub, the modern external treatment, for its direct, double action while you sleep. During the day, use the convenient Vicks Nose Drops for added comfort and relief while you work.

Vicks Plan Tested and Proved

In numerous clinical tests, last winter, Vicks Colds-control Plan reduced the number and duration of colds by half. How you can follow the Plan in your home is fully explained in each Vicks package.

Distrusting the Experts

FAR have the American people
strayed from the old innocent conception of a democracy, in which one man's opinion is as good as another's. Certainly in high matters of state we do not so implicitly trust as we used to do the judgment of the "plain people".
The intense specialization of modern times, the spread of scientific ideas, the extension of research, the need of conducting the public business on the basis of ascertained facts, all have made
the expert in government service
a far more familiar figure than he once was. He is more and more called into the councils of prime ministers and presidents.

Experts have become of immense importance in every field.
They are in demand in all professions and callings. Yet they have their limitations. With their great merits they have certain defects.
It is easy for experts to become too narrow, too intolerant, too arrogant. In their mastery of a single province they are tempted to believe that they should be of equal authority in all others.
Government by experts is likely to become a government for the expert. The specialist too often forgets that he is there to serve the public, and acts on the mistake-
neous assumption that everything
should serve the ends of his exalted purpose. This is the fault of in-stitutionalism, where the institution established to cause some evil becomes devoted to its own perpetuation and loses sight of its original purpose.

Santa Claus Forever

INDISSOLUBLE with Christmas
is the spirit and presence of St.
Nicholas—Santa Claus—the symbol of happiness, of the outpouring of generous hearts, a translation into actuality of the promises made to mankind at the birth in Bethlehem. Santa Claus is not merely a person of round and ruddy face, framed in snow-white whiskers, his form gaily caparisoned in crimson and silver, a light-hearted
old gentleman with a pack on his back stored with toys for little children.
The Christmas season is the time of youth and happiness and gaiety, the time of children, and for the little lurking springs of childhood remembrance which should lie within all human hearts.
It commemorates the coming of a Child, and of the greatest gift to the world. Inevitably it is dedicated to children and those who think the clean, sweet, unselfish
thoughts of trustful youth.

Santa Claus is no nebulous dream. He is a real and living personality, showing from the happy faces of those who believe in Christmas in its truest sense, living and working in the hearts of those to whom giving is a joy, almost a selfish gratification, because they themselves derive from
it such warm pleasure.
Pitiful, indeed, are those sour cynics who see in Christmas only its commercial aspects (as though they were more than merely a means to an end) the high-cost of a gift giving, and the prev-
erion of the Christmas-giving spirit
into a sense of obligation.

WHUDDLE!
By FRANCIS WALLACE
A GREAT FOOTBALL ROMANCE
COPYRIGHT 1930, BY FRANCIS WALLACE — DISTRIBUTED BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS

Young and ambitious Ted Wynne
realizes he cannot ask the wealthy Barb Roth to marry a mill hand, so
he leaves his position in the Bellport
steel mill and works his way through Old Dominion College. He shows promise in football and Barney Mack, the coach, takes an interest in
him. Tom Stone, star player and Ted's rival for Barb's affections, is antagonistic towards him. Ted, however, is admired by the other students. During vacation he toils in the mill to earn his tuition and prepare for the fall football season.
Barb breaks an appointment with Ted and goes with Tom to a dance.
Ted takes Rosalie Downs, whom Barb dislikes. Ted plans to show
Barb he, too, can be independent,
and at a well-end party ignores her.
Late at night, the boys, at Tom's suggestion rush into the girls' rooms
and take them, pajama-clad, down to the water. Ted does not join in the fun, but when Tom comes along with Barb in his arms, apparently enjoying it and calling to Ted to save her, he takes her from Tom
and drops her in the water. Furious, she slaps him. Tom tries to start an argument, but Ted calls him a snob and leaves with Barb watching
from a window.

CHAPTER IX

New Dominion got off to a good start by winning from Duquesne
by two touchdowns. Barney had limited his team to five plays on the offense but they had been given a stiff defensive test by Elmer Layden's spirited crew. On Monday, at the regular noon lecture,
Barney reviewed the contest,
standing at the blackboard with chalk in hand, talking with his heavy voice that rode up hill on a slur to emphasize his points.
"Not a bad game, Saturday; not a bad game at all for a starter—
of course Pidge was looking up in the stands for his girl a couple times and missed a signal but the ladies must have their thrills; we must please the ladies, always.
You've got a habit of watching the play, Stone—don't watch the play—
that's what we have alumni sitting on the bench for. I don't want any more arguing with the quarterback. He suits me or he wouldn't be in there—and he answers to me—you high school
stars get that in your heads now;
if their tackle widens and leaves a hole, just say that the tackle is widening; he's probably seen it anyhow; but don't rush back and order him to run 53."
"Where's Movant?" How's that ankle, Pat? Pretty good, eh? Well, better take tonight off any-
how. Pat; come out and look on and get the Navy stuff.
"All right—Navy offense. Two main formations. Where's your notebook, Stone? On the cuff—
they won't let you take that cuff
in the game, Tom; no cribbing in a football game—you have to know your stuff. Don't take these play down Brute—you might make it
first team, where's your notebook Pidge? Well, I'm astonished. You looked pretty good out there
couple of times, Pidge; pretty good. All right—we'll call in Formation A. Formation A. The
come out of the huddle and line up
like this:

O O O X O O O
O O O

"Lloyd is back here and Clifton
here. Now here's the defense
well use."
The squad of thirty-five men
made a night trip to Baltimore,
arriving there Friday morning and going to the Gibson Island Country Club. They lunched up in the afternoon, put on a dummy defense against Navy plays. After dinner Barney assembled the quarterbacks in his room and made a final survey of the Navy personnel
and the strategy they were to use.
"Your team starts, Ted. Safe plays, punt early; play for the breaks and try to push the ball in

"Not much I can tell you about these fellows that you don't know; they're bigger than you; they'll be tough," said Barney.

their territory by the end of the first period. If we get a safe lead your team may go back in the last quarter—with this schedule we've got to have a second team that can go in there and play a quarter
or more against everybody.
"Go play some of that ping-pong
in the lobby now; take a walk;
forget this game until tomorrow.
Get a good night's sleep."
Ted played through the entire schedule that night; reviewed his quarrel with Barb; fumbled punts;
designed new plays—marvellous
plays—to take advantage of opposing weaknesses as they developed;
missed tackles, called wrong plays.
Finally the Navy goat, running with head down, bore upon him
as he was waiting to catch a punt
—a swarm of Navy goats in pastel
colors, made for him—the thing to do was to catch the ball first, hold
it, stay on your feet; and if you went out, make them carry you out
—the goats were banging him, he was hugging the ball.
"Come on, snap out of it, let loose of them—covers," Pidge was calling, "we'll be late for breakfast and Barney'll be on my tail
again. Better get all we can to eat
this morning because it'll be a long wait until the alumni get ready to feed us tonight."
Heavy breakfast—steak, potatoes, oatmeal, toast with plenty of butter—food to give weight and strength to be assimilated during a morning.
Light lunch—tea and toast at
lunch.
Lolling about in their rooms
after that; resting bodies; calming nerves. At twelve-thirty loaded buses and driven to the Baltimore Stadium.
Ted dressed slowly; tried desperately to keep on the ground;
went over the strategy.
A year ago just a steel mill boy;
today in charge of the destinies of a New Dominion football team in its first big game. Seventy thousand people out there all second guessers. The world was a big place and a lone individual rolling
around in it felt like queer holes;
but somebody had to fill the spot
and Barney had filled it.
Boys in all stages of dress, some naked, others fitting pads like harnesses under their jerseys; trainers
taping weak spots.
Millions listening on the radio;
maybe even I. Ah.
Out to lumber in. Seventy thousand was a lot of people. Navy was a little better than a second
rate team.

Barney stood up. His voice was strong. Ted was glad to hear a noise—that quiet was bursting his head.
"Not much I can tell you about these fellows that you don't know; they're bigger than you; primed for you; they'll be tough."
"But you're faster, smarter," his voice rose, "get the jump on them.
Second team starts—they'll try to score on you, and we can't afford to spot Navy a touchdown."
"I want you linemen to charge.
We'll beat 'em by smartness and
fight and charge—charge!"
"A hard season ahead. A lot depends on how you get started.
Remember what it means to a team
to beat New Dominion—if they smell the headlines they'll get awfully tough, if these fellows beat
you, all the others will get awful
tough."
"Beat Navy and they'll all be ready to take it on the chin."
"All right; forget everything but this game now—go out there now
—stay cool, poised; do your job on every play; think all the time, fight
all the time; you're smarter—you can do it—go on out now and win."

The squad roared, releasing pent emotion, and ran, single file from
the dressing room to the field.
Navy came out from the other side
at once; the Midshipmen picked up
the end of the New Dominion cheering section.
In a daze Ted ran his team
through signals—the place was buzzing, bursting, pounding—the stadium with its seventy thousand
second guessers, was pounding inside his head.
Nerves tightened; heart leaped and stomach contracted. To the sidelines went Harry Pader went out for the toss. Taking off sweat shirts. Words of encouragement
from the squad.
Go get 'em, gang. Crack 'em
hard.
Barney brought him out of it.
"All right, Ted, boy," he said
soothingly, "head clear and thinking all the time. Nothing mysterious; just the old common sense;
the old percentage. You know what to do. You've got the wind;
kick that old ball and play safe till
you get the feel."
"Go on out now, kid. You can do it. It's your ball game."

AT THE CLIFTONA
The romance of the tuna fishing industry, as seen through the eyes of a commercial fisherman, was un-traced with all the resources of a moving picture studio in the new First National in Marion. The ancient Romans. Today its earnings run into the millions. Sixty thousand tons of tuna is the annual catch that goes into the world's markets. Between five and ten thousand people depend upon the tuna fisheries for a livelihood. And it is a staple and popular article
of food all over the United States.
Edward G. Robinson, star of "Little Caesar" and "Five Star Final," is starred in "Tiger Shark."
The popular Richard Arlen plays
the role of Robinson's first mate
and pal Zita Johann, one of Broadway's most brilliant younger actresses has the leading feminine role. Others in the cast are J.
Carroll Naam, William Ricciardi,
and Vince Barnett. The picture is based on Huston Branch's original story "Tuna," with screen play
by Wells Root. Howard Hawks directed.

Find Basic Cause of Halitosis

Antiseptics Are Not Enough to Correct This Condition

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND
United States Senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health,
New York City.

ADVERTISEMENTS in street
cars, magazines and newspapers have made familiar to everyone the embarrassments of halitosis. Perhaps no one but the afflicted person
truly realizes the handicap of this trouble.

The word "halitosis" means
bad breath. It is merely a symptom.

Contrary to the common belief, halitosis is
not a disease of
the teeth and
gums. Halitosis
can sometimes be traced to an infected tooth or diseased gums. But there are other causes for bad breath and many times they are overlooked by the sufferer in his eagerness for cure. Do not be misled and expect halitosis to be cured, even if it is improved, by the vigorous use of a mouth wash or toothpaste.

Indicates Trouble Elsewhere

The presence of halitosis is a sign of a disturbance somewhere in the body. This may be in the mouth, or it may be in some distant part of the body.

Diseased and infected tonsils are a frequent cause of halitosis. When the tonsils are enlarged and pus infected, they give off a foul odor. The cure of the bad breath and other
more serious symptoms is made possible by removal of the diseased tonsils.

Halitosis may be due to an obstinate catarrhal condition which must be relieved before the breath can become sweet.

I am confident that many cases of halitosis can be traced to failure of elimination and disturbed digestion.
When there is any tendency to constipation, there is an accumulation of poisonous substances within the
body.

Many cases of bad breath have been traced to intestinal troubles.
This can be corrected by change of diet, exercise and the taking of plenty of water and fresh air. Usually there is too little "roughage" in the diet. The necessary roughage is supplied by eating plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables. All food should be slowly and carefully chewed. Drink
at least six to eight glasses of water
daily.

Seek the Inner Cause

In what I have said, I do not mean to imply that neglect of the teeth and gums will not cause halitosis. De-cayed teeth permit the accumulation of food particles and germs. When this condition is overlooked, there is sure to be an unpleasant odor. Failure to brush the teeth and dental plate work is another factor.

Make a check-up of your teeth
with an X-ray picture. Then be governed accordingly. Of course all de-cayed teeth should be removed or the cavities properly filled.

As you see there are many causes for halitosis. The cure is simple if the cause is known. Mouth washes and tooth pastes are of value as cleansing agents. But too much faith must not be put in these mild antiseptics.

Some halitosis may be the first sign of some serious disturbance. I am glad so much is said about this symptom. Our advertising friends are doing what is really an important thing in the way of public health education. But my plea is that the victim of halitosis shall not be satisfied merely to cover up the outward
sign of some inward trouble.

Letters To Santa Claus

Circleville, O.
Dear Santa Claus,
My name is Glen Heater. I am
eight years old and in the second grade. I would like for you to bring me a train a magpie and
some new clothes. Also remember
my little brother and sister.
Your little friend,
Dickie Holland.
Williamsport, Dec 10, 1932
Dear Santa:
I am a boy of 7 and am in the second grade. I would like you to bring me a train a magpie and
some new clothes. Also remember
my little brother and sister.
Your little friend,
Dickie Holland.
Dear Santa Claus:
I want a doll baby with a pink dress, candy, oranges, nuts, and
some dishes.
I have been a good little girl.
Your friend,
—Norma Jean Boyer.
Dear Santa:
I am a little boy almost seven years old and I think the best thing for me would be a big wagon and a foot ball. I would like a sled and pair of warm overshoes
and mittens. If you have anything extra for me you can put it in my stocking.
Yours truly,
Gerald Wayne Reynolds
Dec 14, 1932
Dear Santa:
I am writing, telling you what I want this Christmas, if you can please bring me a sweater and pair of stockings. I also want some candy and oranges and nuts
if you want to bring me anything else I will be glad to get it.
Your little friend,
Leslie True.
Circleville O.

Dear Santa Claus:
For Christmas I would like for you to bring me a baby with its tub, candy, oranges, and nuts. I would also like a ring, a story book and a pair of stockings. This is all this time. I have tried to be a good girl.
Your little friend,
Beatrice Parks.
Dear Santa: I will write you a few lines to tell you what I want.
Since it is hard times I know you cannot give me very many things.
This is what I want: A Bee-Bee
Gun, train, watch, football, games,
gloves, airplane, story book,
pants, shirt, shoes, and a pair of stockings. Please do not forget my sisters, aunt and daddy.
Your boy,
—Harold Owen Johnson

SUGAR IN THE LOW-COST DIET

America has a sweet tooth. We consume more sugar per person than any other nation in the world. We raise sugar cane and sugar beets, we manufacture sugar in vast quantities and we import several million tons every year.
More than at other times, no doubt, we like to eat sweets at Christmas. But most people like a sweet dessert any day, or perhaps a peppermint cream to "top off" the meal, however, and eat sugar or candy before meals, you lessen your appetite for the meal. If you use sweets regularly before or between meals, you will find yourself eating less of other needed foods—thus gradually sacrificing energy and health for the long run.

These common experiences illustrate the uses and the abuses of sugar in the diet, says the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Sugar is valuable as fuel food, and for its flavor, but it is not a building food or a protective food. This is true of cane sugar and beet sugar alike. Refined sugar, from either source, is a pure carbohydrate, and contains no protein, no minerals nor vitamins. Molasses, brown sugar, and cane sirup have more food value, because they contain more of the original substances of the sugar cane than refined sugar. Sweets of any kind, however, dull the appetite for foods of greater nutritive value. Sugar should not be allowed to replace these in the diet. Therefore the nutrition specialists' advice is never eat sweets before meals. When sugar was a luxury food, and few people could afford to use it in quantity, cautions as to the manner of using were unnecessary. But sugar in recent years has become very cheap and we consume, in the United States, more than twice as much per person as we did 60 years ago—103 pounds per capita, according to the figures for 1931. The way we consume it therefore becomes an important dietary question.

The sugar ordinarily taken in coffee or tea, with cereals or in dessert, and the sugar contained in or added to fruits, is serving a useful purpose as an energy, not overbalancing other foods. An occasional sweet after meals, or in place of dessert, increases the calories without disadvantage to the individual who is active. Over-indulgence in sweets, however, may cause digestive disturbance because of the concentration of the sugar. In a restricted diet, too much sugar may cause malnutrition by crowding out essential nutritive values found in other foods. The Bureau of Home Economics includes 3 pounds of sugar in its suggested low-cost weekly market list for a family of five. For the family using that market list, additional sugar could be had only if some more valuable food was omitted.

RECIPES

An Inexpensive Cake.
2 cups brown sugar.
2 cups water.
4 tablespoons fat.
1 box seeded raisins.
1 teaspoon cinnamon.
1-4 teaspoon cloves.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon baking soda.
3 cups flour.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
1 cup nut meats, cut in small pieces (not ground).
Put the brown sugar and water in a saucepan with the fat, add the raisins, cinnamon, cloves, and salt. Boil about 5 minutes and set away to cool.
Sift the remaining dry ingredients into the mixture and add the nuts sprinkled with flour. Pour into a tube pan greased and lined with greased paper. Bake in a very moderate oven for about 1 1/2 hours, or until a toothpick comes out dry. Cool in the pan.

Butterscotch Drops
2 cups brown sugar.
3-4 cup top milk.
1-8 teaspoon salt.
Boil the sugar, milk, and salt until the candy forms a soft ball when tried in cold water. Remove from the fire and leave undisturbed until cool. Then stir and beat with a spoon until creamy. Drop onto waxed paper with a teaspoon.

Steamed Pudding:
1-2 cup finely chopped beef suet (2 to 3 ounces).
1 cup brown sugar.
1 cup finely ground carrot.
1 cup finely ground raw potato.
1 cup raisins.
1 cup sifted flour.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
3-4 teaspoon salt.
1-2 teaspoon cinnamon.
1-2 teaspoon nutmeg.
Mix the suet and brown sugar thoroughly. Add the carrot, potato, and raisins. Sift the dry ingredients and stir into the mixture until well blended. Fill 6 or 7 greased custard cups about three-fourths full, cover lightly to keep the puddings dry, and steam about 1 1/2 hours. Or, steam in one large mold for 2 hours. Serve with any desired sauce, such as hard sauce, or foamy sauce, or brown sugar sauce.

Pre-War

We should say "pre-Civil War!" Think of a dressing which has retained its popularity for 75 years—That's Durkee's Dressing!

And in all that time, no one has successfully imitated its spicy tang. Even a whiff of its tantalizing odor makes you hungry.

Made of fresh eggs, 12 spices, pure vinegar and the finest vegetable oils. Mellowed for seven months in maplewood casks, before bottling. It keeps indefinitely.

Now selling at a new low price! Try it tonight on salads, meats, sea food and sandwiches.

Local Girls To Meet Ashville 6

Tonight the Circleville high school girls will make their first trip of the present season when they tie up with the Ashville girls in that village. Both teams have shown strength in the Ashville girls having a slight edge over the local lasses. The fact that they have played more games this season and should be in better playing form. Two of Ashville's mainstays who have been missing from the lineup for a while, due to illness, will in all probability be ready to take the floor this evening against the local lasses. Judith Schlegel, star center, will be one of the returning members while Pearl Reese, a forward, will also return to the Ashville sextet for this week's game. The local sextet will probably see the same lineup that has been starting, with Bennett and Brown at the forward posts, Purcell at center, Rader at side center and Henderson and Dunkle at guards. The boys' game on the card should prove to be a real interesting one with the Ashville quintet stacking up against a fast passing team from West Jefferson. Another angle of the boys' game should prove interesting too, and that is that the coach of the West Jefferson outfit is none other than the brother of Al Kauber, coach of the Ashville team. The first game is called for 7:30 p. m.

PRO SEASON HUGE SUCCESS

Officials Pleased With Results; Bears Replace Green Bay As Champs.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—The National Football League enjoyed one of its most successful seasons in 1932 with the official race ending with the Chicago Bears ending the three-year reign of the Green Bay Packers as world's champions.

Eight teams started the circuit race and the league was never so evenly matched. Boston, the sole newcomer, got off to a good start not only in attracting a large public following but in actual results. The Hub team finished fourth, highest of any Eastern squad, and furnished distinct signs of being a dangerous title contender in 1933.

BEARS IMPROVED
The Chicago Bears after getting off to a slow start, finished the season as one of the most powerful aggregation the league has ever boasted and capped its performance by defeating the Spartans in a postseason playoff game played indoors at the Chicago Stadium.

An unusually fine crop of newcomers came up from college ranks to make good in their first season. Gipsy Battles, halfback, and Glenn Edwards, tackle of Boston, have been named the champion hurler of the American League. Gipsy was awarded the championship because of his low earned-run average. He allowed only 2.84 runs per nine-inning game in 1932.

CLARK WAS BEST
Earl (Dutch) Clark, Portsmouth quarterback, was the outstanding back of the circuit. He was leading ground gainer among the leaders in kicking and passing topped the point getters.

The Bears piled up 2755 yards in their regular season to take offensive honors, while Chicago Cardinals by holding their opponents' gain to 4731 yards had the best defensive line. Green Bay scored 152 points, one more than the Bears, but the Chicago eleven had only 44 points scored upon them, almost half of these points by Portsmouth.

The New York Giants set a remarkable forward pass record in completing 87 out of 188 attempts, a 46 per cent average.

SCHROEDER WINS 2 MATCH RACES

Eddie Schroeder of Chicago, challenged to the right of being selected on the United States team that will compete at Oslo, Norway, vindicated his appointment in two match races in Chicago Tuesday night by beating Onell Farrell and Eddie Murphy. Eddie finished first in the 1,500 and 2,500-meter races and was second to Farrell in the 160-meter event. Schroeder will leave next Monday for Norway to compete in the world's championship races.

publicans wish to make the Democrats assume full responsibility for any change in prohibition; some repealists oppose legalizing beer in the belief it will injure their chances for complete repeal, while few leaders wish to try repeal before attempting to modify the Volstead act.

As Bingham was defeated, the next move will be up to the Senate judiciary committee.

MUST BE REFERRED

After the judiciary committee acts, the bill must be referred to the Senate finance committee, which handles tax legislation. Senator Harrison (D) Mississippi, ranking Democrat on that committee, promised swift action. He said the Democratic members of the committee oppose attaching any other tax legislation to the beer bill.

Leaders of the drive to repeal the Eighteenth amendment meanwhile were planning to get that issue before the Senate. Senator Elaine (R) of Wisconsin, chairman of the judiciary subcommittee which draft a compromise repeal resolution, said he hoped to get a report ready for submission to the full committee next Monday.

To All Who Suffer Stomach Agony, Gas and Indigestion

Money Back If One Bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin Doesn't Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used.

Why bother with slow actors when one tablespoonful of this splendid and pleasant liquid remedy will cause gas, bloating, heaviness, heartburn or any upset condition of the stomach to speedily vanish. And why should any man or woman suffer another hour with indigestion or any stomach misery when the remedy that acts almost instantly can be easily procured? But there is more to say about this remarkable remedy—something that will interest thousands of despondent people. Dare's Mentha Pepsin not only quickly relieves stomach distress, but it also conquers stubborn indigestion, dyspepsia and gastritis, and puts an end to dizziness, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness and despondency which distressing troubles are nearly always caused by chronic stomach disturbance. Dare's Mentha Pepsin is a supremely good remedy that druggists everywhere guarantee—a fine tonic that builds you up and makes you work with vim, eat with relish and sleep soundly.

WHAT MUST A YOUNG GIRL KNOW BEFORE MARRIAGE?

There is a true story told of an ingenious Budapest bookseller, who—faced with hard times—advertised that he had for sale a volume of information indispensable to a young girl contemplating matrimony. He said that in this book would be found—not what every young girl is told before marriage—but what she will find it indispensable to know.

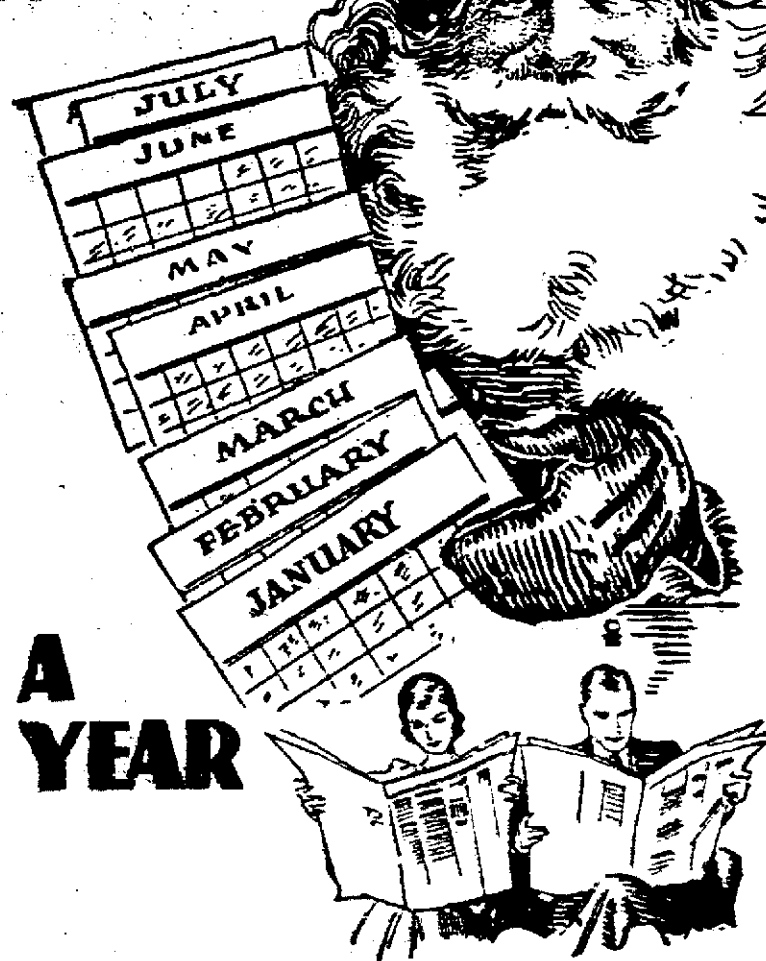

Thousands sent their mail-orders. Then—complaints began to pour in. Finally an outraged man brought the bookseller into court. He stated that he had sent for one of these compendia of indispensable information . . . and that he received by mail a 19th Century Cook-book—"Lazy Little Lulu Learns Cookery." He wanted the bookseller found guilty of obtaining money under false pretense. . . .

But the judge acquitted him, saying that he was in thorough accord with the bookseller's view that a knowledge of cooking was of primary importance to the prospective bride.

THE MODERN NEWSPAPER could be advertised truthfully in very much the same way. The most indispensable knowledge to a young wife is knowing where and what to buy . . . how to get the most for her money . . . how—on a limited budget—to keep her home fresh, new, attractive . . . how to dress herself and her children, inexpensively yet in the very latest style . . . how to serve on her table foods of the most dependable quality.

In other words—the advertising that appears every day in your local newspaper contains information of real value . . . NEWS! Announcements of the latest and best in the shopping world. This is indispensable information to every woman, especially to those with families. It help them run their homes successfully. Surely that is what every woman must know.

KINGSTON

P. T. A. MEETING
 The Parent-Teachers' Association held a delightful meeting on Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the high school building at 7 o'clock with a large audience.

The meeting opened by singing "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," with the president, Mrs. Egbert Freshour presiding. The devotionals were in charge of Miss Addie B. Merriam who read the Christmas story and closed with prayer. The secretary, Mrs. G. W. McGinnis, read the minutes of the previous meeting. The Association voted to drop from the state organization and reduce the dues to 10 cents instead of 25 as formerly.

Mrs. N. J. Dunlap and Mrs. W. R. Sheridan were business visitors to Circleville on Thursday afternoon.

The Presbyterian Guild held a most enjoyable meeting on Wednesday afternoon in the church, which was decorated in keeping with the Christmas season.

One table held a tree with four red lighted candles at the corners and the table was draped with red crepe paper, a smaller table held a tree with Santa Claus and red lighted tapers. The piano was decorated with a small tree and bittersweet.

The meeting opened with a double quartet of ladies singing "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem" with a processional. A piano duet "A Christmas Festival" by Mrs. S. C. Lightner and Mrs. F. P. Long, was enjoyed and then Mrs. W. D. Wood, the president took charge and presided. The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. W. S. Metcalf who portrayed "The Christmas Greetings" from Lew Wallace's Ben Hur, which all enjoyed. The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Long.

Miss Josephine Brundige, chairman of the nominating committee, made the motion to suspend the rules and elect the same officers that served last year for this year. It was voted to do so and the officers are as follows:

President, Mrs. W. D. Wood; vice president, J. O. Seuff; secretary, Mrs. F. P. Long; Treasurer, Mrs. Amos A. Leist. The president appointed a committee to meet with the Parent Teachers' Association and the Committee from the M. E. Church to help with the Community treat. The committee is composed of the following members:

Mrs. Alice Reigel and Mrs. R. E. Lightner. JACKSON SCHOOL NEWS

Miss Baker's fourth grade class the attendance banner again last week.

The Christmas program will be given Thursday, Dec. 22. Twelve Christmas baskets were given by the school this year to the needy of the township.

The Jackson boys noted one of the lads from Salt Creek in a game of football. Coach Sample's team was defeated when several of his boys were injured to report. The game ended with a "bang" with the Salt Creek team sawing back and forth. The game ended with Salt Creek shooting desperately to win.
